

A Visit to Our New School.

Yesterday we visited our New School. Think of our visit.

Using words and phrases use the table below to describe what you felt, heard, saw and smelt.

Feel	Hear	See	Smell
excited	Chattering voices	Lots of glass windows A shiny roof	New carpets

Constructing Sentences

Here is a description of a beach setting-- As I walked down the beautiful beach the sand felt like hot lava. I could hear the waves crashing against the rocks. I could smell the coconut oil and taste the salt from the sea. It paints a picture as if you were there.

Using your words from the table, and memories from your visit, create sentences to describe the setting of the New School. Remember detail and interesting words will paint a great picture!
